

Gite n°1294 - Le Logis de la Motte féodale

Located in LE MESNIL JOURDAIN, in L'Eure

The Logis de la Motte feudal promises you a plunge into history ! This exceptional place is a house from the Louis XIII period, originally a hunting lodge, superbly renovated and converted into a holiday home with resolutely contemporary codes. Julie and Vincent are history buffs and were keen to recreate the atmosphere : upon entering, you will be amazed by this room with its stone vault and period furniture, intimate and warm. The whole is in tune, always with the concern of your comfort and well-being. Another highlight is this large, glazed living room which offers a view of the house, the feudal mound and its tower, and the countryside : you will love cooking in front of this superb landscape and having a good time in the living room, near the fireplace. Here everything is done to make your stay peaceful, until the breakfast brought in the morning. No less than one hectare to walk around and enjoy the great outdoors, surrounded by chickens, geese, goats and sheep. Entrance on the ground floor on the main facade side of the first living room : superb, all vaulted, it immerses you in history and offers a dining area on one side and a lounge area on the other. On this level, also 2 double bedrooms (160x200 beds) with stone vaults : one with desk and washbasin, the other with separate toilet and shower room. Upstairs, you arrive on a second very comfortable dining area then to the large all glazed living room with very well equipped kitchen (2 ovens including a steamer, central island, bean coffee maker, ...) and cocoon lounge in front of the fireplace ; direct access to the large terrace which adjoins the feudal motte. Three double bedrooms, 2 with 160x200 bed and one twin, private bathroom in one of the bedrooms with wc, bathroom and separate wc. You will enjoy the large garden with superb trees.
